ARKIS

Kasper Friis Egelund, 2020

Type Bookend

Colours Black or White

Arkis is 3 marble objects designed to either function as a bookend or just sculptural pieces for the home.

Inspired from the many arches of Classicism and Neoclassicism the design is especially influenced by the beautiful Palazzo della Civiltà Italiana in Rome. To create further depth in the design, the golden ratio has been used, which applies to the gradual down scaling of the three objects.

This scaling creates interesting vistas through the objects when placed together. The design is thought to be either three individual pieces or one joined object.
